SECOND COMING OF CHRIST TO OCCUR BEFORE 1927.

Dr. S. M. Martin, the noted Seattle evangelist, who has been engaged in a revival here for the past three weeks, was greeted by a packed house in the circuit court room Sunday evening. As previously announced, his subject on this occasion was the "Second Coming of Christ," his text being found in this 1st chapter, 11th verse of the Acts of the Apostles. The text was verified by readings from 1 Cor. 15:19-26—Thes. 4:13-19 and the 20th chapter of Revelations.

Dr. Martin proves by scripture that the second coming of Christ and the first resurrection will occur not later than 1927, or within the next ten years. His coming is to be followed by a period of tribulation ending 1972, after which the millennium begins and lasts for a thousand years. Mohammedanism and paganism to be wiped off the face of the earth during the period between the time of Christ's coming and the millennium, and seven great wars are to be waged during this 45 years.

While this able minister and scholar deliberately proved each point, step by step, and is supported by the concurring opinions of many other noted preachers, it is nevertheless true that his statement, as to the coming of the Savior, took many of his hearers off their feet. Some accept the statement; others are reluctant, and still others positively disagree with Dr. Martin. Be this as it may—and time will tell—the sermon has created quite a sensation. It must, however, be admitted even by well informed laymen, that the second coming of Christ is not far distant according to the Holy Word. Even today, there are many people who believe that Christ is now on the earth—and many people from the United States have been to see and hear him—at Beyruit, Syria, a seaport city on the Mediterranean Sea, a few miles north of Jerusalem. He may or may not be a pseudo Christ, but the point is, many people look for his immediate coming, which accounts for their acceptance of the report that the Savior has recently come to earth again and is now in the Holy Land.

Dr. Martin says the "sign" of the second coming of Christ is being fulfilled, according to prophecy, and by careful calculations, he is able to determine that this momentous event will transpire not later than 1927.

You'll certainly "fall" at once for these handsome Fall Skirts, as soon as you see them—and you'll be glad as long as you wear them. Autumn tints and colorings of course, right in line with the new and dressy demands of the new season.

DEPUTY AL THOMAS IS CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF.

Yielding to the solicitations of friends, J. A. (Al) Thomas, of Hickman, now deputy sheriff, has decided to enter the race for sheriff of Fulton county, subject to the action of the Democratic primary next August.

Mr. Thomas tells a Courier man, that having decided to make the race, he thinks it advisable to make his intentions known now, and authorizes us to inform our readers.

Since last September, a year ago, he has been deputy sheriff under Sheriff Huddleston, taking the place of Deputy Naylor, and his work has been eminently satisfactory both to his chief and those with whom he has come in contact. "Al," as his friends call him, is a Fulton product—born and reared in the vicinity of State Line—and grew up as a farmer. He is a life-long Democrat, but has never before asked for any favors from his party.

If he is successful as the nominee, it will be through merit and the help of his friends—as he is not in any sense a politician and knows nothing about "wire-working." In fact, he says he doesn't want any office that must be procured in that fashion, even though he is anxious to serve us one term as sheriff.

From what we have observed and are able to learn, Mr. Thomas is a clean, honest, sober, considerate man—neither too old nor too young for the requirements of the office which he seeks. He is naturally quiet, but is both positive and fearless in the execution of the duties of the sheriff's office, and will doubtless make a good officer if elected.

Cotton came in at a lively rate Saturday and was bringing around $6.00 per hundred in the seed. It was a very ordinary wagon load that failed to pull down close to $100. As a result, business was lively and merchants had a splendid trade. The outlook for business from now until Christmas is exceedingly propitious and the live merchant will make liberal use of printer's ink, which is one of the ways to "make hay while the sun shines."

Not a fire since the new fire engine arrived. Pity we did not buy it several years ago. Now, pray thee, thou great and august Actuarial Bureau, when do we get that little nite of reduction in insurance, which thou didst promise us, if we but installed a fire engine? When a raise is in order, we see thee muchly—but when a reduction is due, we see thee not at all.

TRY IT! SUBSTITUTE FOR NASTY CALOMEL.

Starts Your Liver Without Making You Sick And Can Not Salivate.

Every druggist in town—your druggist and everybody's druggist has noticed a great falling-off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.

"Calomel is dangerous and people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tone is perfectly safe and gives you better results," said a prominent local druggist. Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle costs 50 cents, and if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, you have only to ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel. Take a dose of calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak, sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work! Take Dodson's Liver Tone instead and feel fine, full of vigor and ambition. Adv.

WILL ROBERSON KILLED. FULTON CITY MARSHAL.

Al Ferguson and City Marshal Will Roberson, of South Fulton, engaged in a pistol duel Thursday evening about 6:30 o'clock on the Tennessee side, near Billie Stallins residence. Seven or eight shots were exchanged. Five bullets from the gun of Al Ferguson took effect in Mr. Roberson's body killing him almost instantly. Ferguson escaped without a scratch.

It is said the shooting began when Ferguson interfered with the officer in arresting a negro who was rolling a wheelbarrow on the sidewalk in which was a trunk. Judging from the talk of various ones who claim to know, an old grievance existed between the two men. In fact, we have been unable to find out exactly what lead up to the shooting as Mr. Ferguson is quiet on the subject, and no two tell the same story regarding the tragedy. After the killing Ferguson surrendered to the Tennessee officers and was taken to Union City, and placed in jail. This is the second time Ferguson has engaged in a killing affair in Fulton. About two years ago he shot to death Jack Johnson, colored. At that time he was acting as special policeman for South Fulton, and claimed the shooting was in self-defense. He was exonerated and the killing almost passed out of the minds of the public, until Thursday night when he figured as principal in another shooting.

Fearing a mob, Ferguson was rushed over by authorities to the Obion county jail in the custody of W. M. Robey. The shooting is said to have taken place on the street that forms the Tennessee and Kentucky line, which will complicate the case.

Will Roberson, the dead officer, had acted as city policeman in South Fulton for about one year. He was a fearless officer and is said to have kept a watchful eye on the movements of suspicious characters and especially those attempting to bootleg.—Fulton Leader.

Fundamental Principles of Health

By ALBERT S. GRAY, M. D.

RIGGS' DISEASE AND VITALITY.

Next in frequency to the most prevalent human disease, caries, or tooth decay, comes one very closely associated with it, known in dental literature as periodontitis, better known as pyorrhea alveolaris, or Riggs' disease. This disease, characterized by a more or less general infection of the membranes within the tooth socket, is indicated by a slight tenderness during mastication, looseness of the teeth and pulp sensitivity, or even pain on the ingestion of hot or cold drinks because of the exposure of the cementum, the external shell of the root. The gum is swollen and soft, the tooth may be raised in its socket, and pressure brings relief. There is a discharge of pus from between the tooth and gum on pressure, the teeth become loose, and, in course of time as the disease progresses and the alveolar process (the tooth socket) is destroyed, they fall out.

Efficient mastication is, of course, impossible; hence not only is food bolted partly chewed and more or less mixed with pus, but the tissues in and around the teeth are deprived of exercise necessary to give them an adequate blood supply and they are thereby rendered less resistant to attack. Tooth after tooth is involved and there is established another of those numerous vicious cycles that continually operate to drag us down.

As in so many diseases there is a great diversity of opinion as to its cause. It sometimes follows severe fever and many consider it the result of low vitality and feeble circulation, the result of a gouty diathesis (physical habit), or of chronic rheumatism; but the majority opinion appears to be that the immediate cause of the disease is the accumulation of irritant material in the pocket around the tooth.

The general bacteriology of the disease is by no means confined to one group of organisms, and so far as is known no specific micro-organism has been isolated; the streptococcus, pneumococcus, staphylococcus and others of the bacillary type predominate.

Pyorrhea is not a new disease; it was recognized by the early investigators, but it has become more prevalent during the last 50 years and it is the rule rather than the exception to find patients with more or less periodontitis. The disease is not confined to man, but is also extremely prevalent among domestic animals.

A class of serious disorders has long been known in which failure of nutrition could be named as the immediate antecedent in the case and in which it has vaguely been assumed that the diet must be at fault. Probably the most generally familiar of these diseases is scurvy.

Victims of scurvy suffer from severe physical exhaustion, soreness of the gums and looseness of the teeth, and, of course, this opens the way to bacterial invasion and periodontitis. When we note that, as all observers agree, improvement or intensification of the mouth diseases synchronizes with the rise and fall of general health in the individual, it is reasonable to suspect that the disease is not a strictly local infection resulting from local irritation or injury. It does not come from injuries received in chewing grit and sand or from soft food accumulating about the teeth; it comes as the result of lowered vitality from the lack of those organic compounds other than the proteins which Casimir Funk and other investigators prove to be present in fresh vegetables and in lime and other juices, small quantities of which are absolutely essential to normal growth and continued health. The name given these compounds by Funk is well chosen in view of its root meaning: Vitamines. An "amine" is a nitrogenous compound of a certain type, and a vitamin is obviously such a nitrogenous compound absolutely necessary to vitality.

The principles of evolution are universal and constantly at work, even in the minds of men, and we are slowly evolving out of the old idea of "cause" and "cure." The investigations of Soddy in the chemistry of the radio-elements, of Twort, Penfold, Mme. Henri and others in the mutations of bacteria, make it quite clear that if medicine ever takes a place among the sciences it can come only as the result of a general habit of mind such as is found in the advanced sciences.

We know, for example, that sunbeams are the ultimate cause of the revolving of a windmill, but no man can state the origin of the particular puff of air that causes a wheel to revolve at a certain speed at a certain time. Neither is it possible to put one's finger on the exact point at which we enter or leave the vital current of life. The wise man takes no chances and simply sticks close to nature. This means eating simple, properly prepared, unprocessed foods.

GOLDEN GOES TO PRISON.

Monroe Golden, convicted Circuit Court Clerk, of Obion county was taken to the Nashville penitentiary Saturday. Hoping that they may find out where some of the county funds embezzled during his two terms of office had gone, some of his friends who had come to bid him goodbye at the jail asked him to confess. Mr. Golden reiterated that he could not tell what he did with the money. He lived frugally. His only indulgence was cigars. "A quarter here and 50 cents there no account kept," was his only excuse. He asked his friends to be kind to the invalid wife and two little children he leaves behind. He is much broken, and as he is subject to heart trouble, the prison authorities have promised that they will see to his getting work that will not exert him too much.

NEW WORLD'S RECORD.

A new world's record in naval gunnery has been made by the new superdreadnaught Pennsylvania, the Navy Department has announced. At that distance a target is not visible.

Until you serve it, you will never know how much pleasure coffee can give

A million other women have learned what good coffee means—they have solved this question in their homes for all time.

They know now that to get good coffee, the coffee itself must be right.

There are hundreds of varieties of coffee grown. The coffee itself must be put up by men who know coffee. Arbuckles' Coffee is. It is put up by Arbuckle Bros., the greatest coffee merchants in the world. There is more of it sold than any other coffee—that is why they can afford to give you the biggest value for your money.

And no matter how good coffee itself is, if it isn't well taken care of, it makes a poor drink. Arbuckles' Coffee is put up in sealed, dust-proof packages, carefully wrapped to protect it from moisture, dirt and store odors. It arrives in your kitchen with all its original strength and flavor.

Have in your home the enjoyment of drinking the coffee which, of all the coffees in America, is the most popular! Solve your coffee problem in the identical way a million other women have. Serve Arbuckles' Coffee tomorrow—know how much pleasure coffee can give.

TEMPTING SALADS.

One of the important things to remember in preparing a salad is to leave a good dressing. If oil is used it is not economy to buy anything but the best, for poor oil will spoil the most delightful combination of foods. Oil should be kept cool and dark; the light has an action upon oil which is said to injure it. At any rate it is easy to give it the benefit of the doubt.

Swiss Salad.—Cut one medium sized, peeled cucumber into dice; add a cupful of cold cooked lamb, cut into cubes; add half a cupful of shredded lettuce, one-half cupful of cooked green peas, one teaspoonful of mint juice, salt, and pepper to season, and a cupful of mayonnaise dressing. Mix lightly together and serve on a bed of lettuce. Garnish with stuffed olives.

Chicken Salad.—Wash carefully, remove all the outside leaves and cut in quarters, two heads of lettuce. Pour over four tablespoonfuls of olive oil, a tablespoonful of chopped onion, a teaspoonful of powdered sugar and two tablespoonfuls of vinegar; sprinkle with chopped parsley and serve well chilled, after seasoning to taste with pepper and salt.

Chicken Salad.—Cut thin slices of cold roast chicken and lay in a salad bowl; season with pepper, salt and vinegar. Place over these a layer of sliced radishes and cucumbers; season and add vinegar and oil. Put on another layer of chicken and repeat with vegetables. Cover with mayonnaise dressing, garnished with chopped pickled walnuts.

Watercress Salad.—Wash and shake dry nice crisp cress. Put it into a salad bowl and slice over it thin slices of crisp cucumber. Pour over a French dressing, using a little tarragon vinegar and three drops of worcestershire sauce; serve cold.

Spanish Onion Salad.—Slice peeled Spanish onions and sprinkle with chopped green pepper, chopped red pepper and two chopped olives. Serve with French dressing.

HUSBAND OBJECTS TO OPERATION

Wife Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Des Moines, Iowa.—"Four years ago I was very sick and my life was nearly spent. The doctors stated that I would never get well without an operation and that without it I would not live one year. My husband objected to any operation and got me some of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it and commenced to get better and am now well, am stout and able to do my own housework. I can recommend the Vegetable Compound to any woman who is sick and run down as a wonderful strength and health restorer. My husband says I would have been in my grave ere this if it had not been for your Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. BLANCHÉ JEFFERSON, 703 Lyon St., Des Moines, Iowa.

Before submitting to a surgical operation it is wise to try to build up the female system and cure its derangements with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; it has saved many women from surgical operations.

NECESSARIES OF LIFE CONTINUE TO CLIMB.

Prices of foods, clothes, luxuries and materials have advanced alarmingly within the last year. Mercants and producers say that prices for food will be even higher this winter.

Wholesalers say that canning houses all over the country have announced their deliveries would be only one-third of the normal amount. The vegetable crop, it was declared, was only half what was expected. Even the price of a collar, which for years was staple at "two for a quarter," has been advanced to 15 cents each. Some laundries which for years have charged two and one-half cents for the washing of collars, now charge three cents.

Canned fruits will be 30 per cent higher and canned vegetables will be advanced from 15 to 20 per cent, according to wholesalers. Paper bags, which a year ago could be purchased in wholesale lots for 95 cents, now cost $1.55. The advance is typical of all paper and paper products.

Cigar jobbers raised their prices this week. Five cent cigars which the dealer had been getting for $31 or $32 a thousand, have been advanced to $35. Better grades of cigars also have been advanced.

Cotton goods have advanced between 25 and 35 per cent. Woolens also have kept pace with cottons. In the best lines of women's shoes the prices have been almost doubled, dealers say.

HIS DREAM OF HEAVEN.

Bob Taylor, in his own inimitable way, has so beautifully expressed his dream of heaven that we are pleased to reproduce it at the request of one of our readers.

"What heaven is I know not; but I long have dreamed of its purple hills and its fields of light, blossoming with immortal beauty; of its brooks of laughter and its rivers of song and its palaces of eternal love. I long have dreamed that every bird which sings its life out here on earth may sing forever there in the tree of life, and every consecrated soul which suffers the pains of this world may rest among the flowers of heaven and live and love forever. I long have dreamed of opal towers and burished domes; but what care I for gates of pearl, or streets of gold, if I can but meet the loved ones who have loved and blessed me here on earth; see the glorified faces of father and mother and the little baby brother who died among the bursting buds of hope, and take in my arms again my own darling baby who fell asleep ere his little tongue had learned to lip 'Our Father who art in Heaven.' What care I for stars and harp of gold, if I can love and laugh and sing with my loved ones forever, in the smile of my Saviour and my God."

USE COTTONSEED MEAL AS FERTILIZER

Loading Cottonseed Meal.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

At the present time, when potash in the form of salts is practically unobtainable and when both nitrogen and acid phosphate have advanced in price because of the use of nitrates and sulphuric acid for munition purposes, cottonseed meal, which carries all three of the fertilizing elements, becomes of great importance. In recent years immense quantities of this material have gone into fertilizers, approximately 1,000,000 tons having been so used in 1913.

Cottonseed meal, the residue after the oil has been extracted from cottonseed, is a dry, yellowish powder, having excellent mechanical properties for fertilizer mixtures, and contains about 6.5 per cent of nitrogen, 2 per cent of phosphoric acid and 2 per cent of potash. It is, therefore, according to specialists of the United States department of agriculture, primarily a nitrogenous fertilizer, but under present conditions its potash content is highly important and is a decided factor in determining the price at which the material is sold.

In practice, cottonseed meal should be mixed with other ingredients. Most of the formulas heretofore published have advocated various proportions of acid phosphate and muriate of potash in combination with cottonseed meal. Muriate of potash is to all intents and purposes unobtainable this year and must be omitted from present consideration. If 1,000 pounds of cottonseed meal and 1,000 pounds of acid phosphate are mixed, however, a ton of material results which contains about 180 pounds of phosphoric acid, 65 pounds of nitrogen and 20 pounds of potash. This is about 9 per cent phosphoric acid, 3.25 per cent nitrogen and 1 per cent potash, and makes a very satisfactory mixture for many soils where field crops are to be grown. For trucking and gardening present practice demands a higher content of potash, and the mixture may be supplemented by the application of unleached wood ashes if obtainable.

Nitrogen in cottonseed meal is not so quickly available as when applied in the form of nitrate, but on the other hand is not so likely to be leached out in times of heavy rainfall. In light sandy soils, where leaching is rapid, the use of organic material such as cottonseed meal is to be preferred in supplying the necessary nitrogen. Decay of the organic material liberates the nitrogen gradually and there is much less danger of loss than in the case when soluble salts, like Chilean nitrate, are used.

Most of the mineral ingredients in cottonseed meal are recovered in the manure if the material is used as a cattle feed. The most economical use of cottonseed meal is, therefore, to feed it and apply the manure to the land. In this way the material is made to serve a double purpose. European dairymen have for some years bought large quantities of American cottonseed meal for feeding purposes. As the live stock industry develops in our southern states doubtless an increasing amount of this material will be diverted from the fertilizer trade for use as stock feed, and at present wherever possible the practice of feeding the meal and using the manure for fertilizer should be followed, rather than the direct application of the cottonseed meal to the land.

REDUCE ACREAGE OF COTTON

Difficulties of Getting Staple Shipped Abroad Are Increasing—Raise More Food Crops.

The Memphis Commercial-Appeal declares that "if the Southern farmer is even moderately wise he will reduce his cotton acreage from last year, rather than increase it." It points out that the difficulties of getting cotton abroad are steadily increasing, and adds:

"On the other hand, the demand for good crops bids fair to increase. Corn and wheat and oats, hogs and cows and chickens bid fair to be even higher next fall than they have been before. Foreign nations can and will have these products, and we also have 100,000,000 people in this country to feed. In other words, the outlook is bullish on everything to eat. While it may not be decidedly bearish on cotton, it can easily be made so with a big yield this year."

"If farmers of the South increase their cotton acreage this year at the expense of feed and food crops they will buy food this fall at record high prices and pay for it out of low-priced cotton."

MIXED FARMING PAYS BEST

Rational Diversification of Products Is Biggest Single Factor in Soil Rejuvenation.

The rational diversification of farm products is the biggest single factor in soil rejuvenation and maintenance, in the eradication and prevention of soil and crop pests; in insurance against much of the loss and vicissitudes of uncertain seasons, weather and markets. Cut back old seedling pecan trees for top budding during the coming summer. Saw off the main trunk so as to leave five or six branches, and cut these back to stubs 8 to 10 inches in length. New shoots form on the stubs, which, by the middle of summer, will be ready to be budded.

MULES BETTER THAN HORSES

Less Subject to Accidents and Injury—More Inclined to Take Care of His Own Interests.

Mules are said by some to be harder than horses. Because of the mule's disposition it is probably true that he is inclined to take care of his own interests somewhat better than the average horse. He probably exerts less energy in fretting than does the horse. As to whether or not he can stand more actual work than a horse of similar type, weight and condition is still a question.

Mules are said to be less subject to accidents and injury. Insignificant blemishes on mules affect their value less than the same blemish on horses. Because of the mule's ability to care for himself he shows somewhat less tendency to get into trouble when in pasture or in accidents of various sorts.

COTTON IS MOST ESSENTIAL

Wonderful Product Is the Basis of All High Explosives—Makes Modern Warfare Terrible.

Next to air, water and food, there is probably nothing more essential to man's existence in the way of civilization than cotton. A bit of the "irony of the gods" is found in the fact that while war has demoralized the cotton industry, yet without cotton there could be no war. Not a single modern gun could be fired, not a battleship sail nor an army be put in motion without this wonderful product of the modest cotton plant. For its fruit is the basis of all high explosives and smokeless powder. A warship is a floating cotton mill, from the suits of its Jack Tars to the grim shells ready as fuel for the mighty guns that make modern warfare so terrible—Ranch and Range.

The increased activity of U boats has caused many of the allies' large merchantmen to arm with four inch guns. After the collapse of the Quebec bridge span, which killed eleven, Canada at once started an investigation to place the blame. Street, subway and "L" cars were covered with steel netting to protect motormen from harm during second New York city traction strike. R. L. BRADLEY

Council meets in regular session next Monday night. There is talk of the city fathers submitting to the voters of the city a proposition to vote bonds to the extent of $25,000 for the purpose of street improvement. With this amount of money it would be possible to gravel and oil practically all streets, making them as good as Clinton street. This is probably the only practical way to get good streets—and it must be admitted our streets are in a bad way—as the amount available out of the annual revenues for street work is not sufficient to make any general improvement. There will naturally be some opposition to voting bonds. Some will say the tax burden is already heavy enough; but, it must be remembered that the bonds can be paid off in 20 years with about the same money we are using each year for mere patching of streets. The city limits will doubtless be extended to take in a lot of property adjacent the city proper and considerable additional revenue will be realized from this source. Certainly much more than will have to be spent on the property to be annexed, as most of it has streets, walks, etc., just as good as will be found in the town. Additional items of expense, by reason of acquiring new territory, will be city lights and fire protection; plus some street work, but not gravel streets except where there is a large amount of traffic. In short to spend $25,000 on street improvement would just add $25,000 to the value of Hickman property, to say nothing of the benefit to be derived by the present and future generations.

CONTRACT LET FOR WEST HICKMAN LEVEE.

After months of hard work, involving diplomacy that would do credit to an ambassador, the local levee committee—composed of Col. C. L. Walker, W. A. Johnston and A. O. Caruthers—has finally succeeded in bringing all interested parties together on the proposition and the contract for rate $3000 and part of the ground, besides raising their water tank and tearing down the elevator.

The I. C. Ry. will donate $3000. The citizens, whose money has been raised by popular subscription, will put up about $4000 and clear the right-of-way for the levee, besides some other preliminary work and expense.

The contractors' job will amount to 43,000 yards at 22c a yard.

The City of Hickman will give whatever ground is needed for the project, where it touches city property.

The section of new levee which is to be built will start at the northeast corner of the Mengel yards, tacking onto the Mengel levee, thence east between the railroad and river to a point east of the water tank, thence south to what is called the levee road. Here it will go east, being built on the north and against the said levee road to a terminating point on high ground near what is called the McElroy corner. The levee will then be continuous from the McElroy corner to the

The committee which has put this undertaking through, are to be congratulated. Had their efforts failed, there is no doubt we would have lost the Mengel Box Co., which is the biggest and most important industrial institution in Western Kentucky. This factory by reason of overflows, has lost close to $250,000 in the past four years, and without protection they would have sought a more favorable location. The flooding of West Hickman also cost the town and county thousands of dollars, to say nothing of suffering and expense to citizens of the overflow district. Each high water has cost as much as the building of a new levee. With adequate protection from the river, the west end of town will build up and property values increase; new and better homes will be established and better citizenship will result. The levee is a God-send from any angle viewed.

It is not only possible but very probable that as a result of the levee, the N. C. will give us a new modern depot. Even though it goes west far enough to get behind the new levee, it will be a big improvement.

The successful culmination of the levee project should be an incentive to the whole town to forge ahead, because the very lack of it has held things back, on the well founded surmise that the box factory might move away and cause a big slump in both population and property values.

Our hats are off to the committee—also W. S. Ellison, who has been the main spring of the local financing committee.

The levee is to be completed by Dec. 15th.

The new pipe organ for the First Methodist church arrived here yesterday morning, the outfit making a car load. The church officials announce that the organ will be ready for service a week from the coming Sunday.

This instrument is one of the very latest and best made, costing $2,500. The money was raised through the efforts of the ladies of the church, who, by paying cash, availed themselves of a nice discount on the purchase price.

Miss Marguerite Fuqua, of the musicale department of Hickman College, will play the instrument, having taken several weeks instruction for that purpose.

With the building of the West Hickman levee, more homes will be built—built by citizens who will occupy them. A city of homes is a city that has permanency. It is a far better city than a city of rented houses, of even greater population. The renters may move away in time of slack work and leave the houses vacant, but the home owners are not so shifting. Misfortune may come to some of them that will cause them to lose their homes, but their abode is on a more permanent basis.

BOSTON SHOE SHOP

TWO FATALLY INJURED IN PISTOL DUEL.

The little town of Harris, Tenn., just south of Fulton, was thrown into considerable excitement yesterday morning about 8 o'clock on account of a pistol duel between Joe W. Collins and son, Bert, and three Mobley brothers, Ed, Ollie and Herman. It is said that the shooting took place on the levee bridge which crosses Harris Fork Creek east of the village, and that Mr. Collins and his son received wounds which will probably prove fatal. Particulars and full details of the shooting are meagre but it is thought that the trouble arose over family affairs or careless remarks.

WEEKLY GINNING REPORT.

While the cotton season is just now getting under good headway, the three gins at Hickman have already ginned the following number of bales each:

Farmers Gin	271
Dodds Gin	234
E. St. Louis Gin	120

The Farmers gin reports 50 bales for customers not included in the above figures.

Prices paid this week have ranged from $6.50 to $6.85.

ENJOYABLE MASK BALL.

IN MEMORY.

The death angel visited the home of Mrs. Anna Bradley, on Sept. 24th, at three a. m., and claimed for its own her darling little babe. Little Inez was a bright, smiling little girl of two summers, and was loved by all who knew her. She had a sweet, lovely disposition, which made her many friends who will mourn their loss. Grieve not dear friends and loved ones for little Inez is at rest with angels that are watching over her. Grieve not for her but live so as to meet your darling on that bright and shining shore where no good-byes are said and no farewell tears are shed. 'Tis sad, but God's will, be done, not ours. Put away the little dresses. That our darling used to wear. She will need them on earth never.

For little Inez is at rest. She is with the happy angels. And in heaven she is blest. She is gone but not forgotten. Never shall her memory fade. We will not forget our darling in her lone and silent grave. One that loved her.

CONSERVE ALL FARM MANURE

Necessary for Farmer to Save All Fertilizers Produced—Sheltered Pit Should Be Made.

During the present poultry famine it is necessary for every farmer to conserve carefully all the farm manures produced. It is a well-known fact that farm manure contains a large proportion of the potash that was efficiently in the plants consumed by the animals. The amount of potash in the manure varies directly with the amount in the plants. These animals feed of plants running high in potash produce a manure running high in this element. Good manure is a striking illustration. Animals' food of plants running high in potassium produce a manure high in potassium. Horse and cattle manure are in this class. Poultry manure runs low in potassium and phosphoric acid.

Dean P. H. Rolfs of the University of Florida college of agriculture calls attention to the fact that the ammonia, potash and phosphoric acid content of the manures of these farm animals is in the best condition for use as a fertilizer. If the manures are not protected against leaching rains, the soluble fertilizers or the fertilizing elements available to plants will be washed out and the manures will lose a large amount of their value.

A manure pit, sheltered against rain, should be provided on every farm. There is no better fertilizer and at the same time there is no more profitable form of fertilizer to employ than farm manures.

HOGS ARE MOST PROFITABLE

Pork Can Be Raised at Less Cost Than Cotton—Animals Will Gather Their Own Feed.

Hogs are worth about ten cents a pound on the market—almost as much as cotton. You can raise twice as many pounds of hogs per acre as you can of cotton and at less cost. Take the hog end of the proposition.

Plant peas, peanuts, clover, grasses, chaffs, sweet potatoes, sorghum and the like for hogs. They will gather their own crop without waste and every pound they gather is at once converted into a finished product ready for the market at a good profit.

KEEP ALL FARM TOOLS SHARP

Tends to Conserve Horse Feed and Strength—Saves Time, Temper and Human Vitality.

By keeping the farm tools sharp you save horse feed and horse strength. It does better work, more of it in one day, and pays a better profit. It saves time, temper and human vitality. A good emery stone will pay for itself in one season—get one and keep the tools sharp.—Clinton College Bulletin.

EXPENSE OF FEEDING MULES

Result of Test Made at Hays Substation—Animals Made Increase of 109 Pounds Per Head.

During the past winter a feeding test was conducted at the Hays substation of Kansas, in which weighing mules were fed for a period of 130 days for an average of $8.14 per head. The total cost of maintaining the 21 mules used in the experiment was $572.96, including labor. The average initial weight was 545 pounds, and during the experiment there was an increase of 109 pounds per head.

The mules were fed 6,510 pounds of sudan hay, valued at $4 per ton; 3,380 pounds of cane hay at $2.50 per ton; 10,115 pounds of alfalfa hay at 80 per ton; 12,000 pounds of kaffir millings at $2 per ton; 6,800 pounds of sorghum fodder at $1.50 per ton; 201 pounds of oats at 45 cents per bushel; 10,664 pounds of corn-and-cob meal at 33 cents per cwt.; 1,000 pounds of oil meal at $1.50 per cwt.; 50 pounds of salt at 75 cents per cwt.; and were given alfalfa pasture 1½ months at 35 cents per head per month. In addition to these costs there was a charge of $8 for veterinary expenses, 140 hours of man labor at 21 cents per hour, 150 hours of horse labor at 19 cents per hour and 100 hours' use of equipment at 3½ cents per hour.

NOT MUCH CHANCE FOR RAIN

Florida State Agent Advises Farmers to Conserve Moisture by Cultivating the Crops.

C. K. McQuarrie, state agent for the University of Florida extension division, advises farmers to save all the rain that they can within the next few months. Mr. McQuarrie thinks that there is not much chance for plenty of rain until the rainy season. At any rate, as long as the present drought continues moisture conservation should be practiced.

Land should be cultivated after every rain. This will break the crust and prevent moisture from escaping. It is not enough to cultivate near the plant rows and leave the middles unbroken. Moisture will soon find channels through the unbroken surface. The capillary force works horizontally as well as vertically, and can transport water in any direction.

30-DAY DROUTH BROKEN BY RAIN LAST NIGHT.

A drouth of 30 days duration, so far as this immediate section is concerned, was broken by heavy rains last night and this morning. The rain was accompanied by an intense electrical storm and some wind. 100% DIVIDENDS
In Fuel Saved Each Winter!

How to get more for your money.

That's the rub.

There are ways and ways to economize. Some do without; some buy inferior articles. Others make a better use of the money they spend. And that is the kind of economy we want to talk about.

Did you ever figure out how much your heat cost you?

Do you know that 95 per cent of the ordinary heating stoves utilize only half of the heat that is in the coal?

Do you realize what this wasted half costs you?

Utilize that lost half and you will make a real saving and get more heat in the bargain.

Every stove with numerous air leaking joints wastes more available heat than the stove originally cost. That waste is the gas portion of your coal and the heat that goes up the chimney in the ordinary stove. Save the gas—mix it properly with air—burn it and you develop an immense amount of otherwise wasted heat.

But it requires a stove of special construction. It must be a stove that is scientifically and mechanically perfect. It must be a stove that has no air leaks.

That stove is—

Cole's Original
Hot Blast
Heater

The stove that absolutely controls your fire.

The stove that burns the gases wasted by other stoves.

The stove that radiates a constant and steady heat from either soft coal, hard coal or lignite.

The stove in which the fire is never out.

The stove that saves its cost in fuel each winter.

The stove that lets no gas or smoke escape into the room.

The stove that gives you every atom of heat that is in your coal.

In fact, the only stove that is absolutely efficient—perfect in construction—perfect in operation.

We sell it under a broad guarantee to do all these things.

COME IN AND SEE IT. YOU WILL BE DELIGHTED.

See the name "Cole's" on the feed door of each stove.

DR. CRAIK BADLY INJURED.
RENNENBERG IN CHARGE.

The Rev. Charles Ewell Craik, 60, dean of Christ Church Cathedral, at Louisville, suffered injuries which may prove fatal, and his son, Charles Craik, Jr., 24, was hurt painfully, when their automobile was struck by an inbound Prospect car Monday morning near Woodside Station, at Louisville.

Dean Craik suffered concussion of the brain in the accident and his son suffered a fracture of both jaw bones and severe cuts and bruises on other parts of his body. It was said last night that the condition of Dean Craik is grave, and little hope is held for his recovery. His son, although knocked senseless, was revived and is expected to recover.

Rev. W. F. Renneberg, of St. Paul's church, Hickman, who is in Louisville, on a visit, has been appointed by Bishop Woodcock to assume charge of the cathedral during the month of October, hence, will not return to Hickman before November. This is the largest and most important parish in Kentucky.

Dr. Robinson, of Fulton, will probably conduct services at Hickman during the absence of Rev. Renneberg.

PRINT PAPER TO COST
$20 A TON MORE.

The Whitaker Paper Co. advises us of another raise of $20 a ton on the paper used in making the Courier, effective Oct. 1st, and regardless of grade or quantity. This simply means that subscription rates must be advanced. During the year just past, it actually cost $1.14 3-4 to send the Courier to a subscriber for that year. The latter half of the ton over the price of last September when paper jumped $40 a ton—the Courier cost considerably more than $1.14 3-4. We had hoped that the price of paper would finally come down and that we would not be forced to raise the subscription rate; but on the contrary, it is rapidly advancing, with prospects good for not being able to get paper at any price before another year. It is suicidal to try to keep sending the paper at a dollar a year under the circumstances, and we will be forced to advance the price—not as a matter of choice but of necessity.

LITTLE SON DIED.

UNUSUAL ACCIDENT.

An unusual accident occurred at the New Hope School on Thursday morning when a horse bit Mary, the little ten year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Gore.

At recess Mr. Yates, the teacher, had gone to water his horse, taking the little child with him. She was holding his hand watching the horse drink when he suddenly raised his head and bit her on her face. A cut an inch long was made at the corner of her mouth entirely through the cheek and below her eye near her nose, on the other side of her face a deep imprint of the horse's teeth was left. The child must have moved and by so doing saved herself from a horrible disfigurement. Had she not moved her face would have been bitten off. —Clinton Gazette.

FLOATER AT WICKLIFFE.

An unknown white man, aged about 60 years, was found floating in the river at Wickliffe Friday morning at 11 o'clock. No clue to his identity could be established.

The man was about 5 feet and 4 inches in height, and was dressed in a blue overshirt over a white ribbed undershirt, had black grey socks and brogan shoes. In his pockets were found two pocket books containing two nickels, a dime and five pennies, and a pocket knife.

The top of the man's shoe had caught on a log in the river. The body looked as though it had been in the water three or four days.

The KITCHEN CABINET

After you've been two weeks in the house with one of these terrible handy men that ask their wives to be sure to wipe between the tines of the forks, and that know just how much raising bread ought to have, and how to hang out a wash so each piece will get the best sun, it's a real joy to get back to the ordinary kind of man. Yes, 'tis so! I think a man should have sense about the things he's meant to have sense about, but when it comes to keeping house, I like him real helpless, the way the Lord planned to have him.—Youth's Companion.

It is far easier to prepare made dishes for entrees, salads, or even main dishes, but the ingenuity of the cook is taxed to use bits of left-over desserts in attractive ways.

If one has served a plain rice pudding one day the rice may be combined with a custard for a dessert the second, not the following day. Another attractive rice pudding may be prepared by packing the remnants into a mold and when time to serve, turn out and cover the mold with sweetened whipped cream and surround with any fresh, well-sugared berries in their season, or muskmelon, cut in dice, sprinkled with sugar, salt and a bit of nutmeg makes a most attractive and appetizing combination.

If cottage pudding is served, bake a layer or two in a jelly cake tin and have it with a rich filling for a cake to serve with a little dish of fruit for dessert the following day. Or if the pudding itself is left, drop the pieces in a paper and reheat or steam in a steamer and serve with a custard sauce.

Left-over baked custards may be carefully dipped into sherbet cups, a layer of nuts or fruit between, and garnish with cooked egg, white or whipped cream. Cornstarch pudding or rice may be served in the same way.

Pieces of pie may be each covered with a meringue and browned, making a very pretty dessert.

Apple sauce may be placed in ramekins, cover with a rich pastry and bake; serve hot or cold.

Blanc-mange when made molded in individual molds, if any is left over, may be cut in two and served with a different sauce, adding variety without waste.

Steamed chocolate pudding, cut in slices and put together with an orange filling, may be served in small cakes with a cup of tea for luncheon.

The readers of this paper are pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

County School Notes

By Miss Virginia Lutten
County Supt.

Cayce school has enrolled 135 pupils including 14 pupils in the first year of the high school. This is an excellent beginning and has exceeded our expectations. On Monday of this week a number of patrons gathered at the school to make some good walks and to finish building the stables. From the interest shown this is going to be a very attractive school yard. Shade trees and flowers will be put out later.

The proceeds on the box supper at the Blue Pond school amounted to about $90 with which the district is making a number of improvements. Gravel is being hauled for walks and the yard will be fenced. This district is fortunate in having a wide awake teacher and trustees as well as pupils with community pride. We are glad to note the marked progress.

Jordan school district has put a piano in the school and is also arranging to equip the playground for some good school games.

The examination for the 7th and 8th grades will be held at all one-room schools Oct. 19 and 20. Cayce, Sylvan Shade and Jordan having a longer school term will have their examination on a different date.

SUPPER A SUCCESS.

Friday night the pupils of Mrs. Bessie Howell entertained a very attentive audience for a short while with a well prepared program from the works of the late James Whitcomb Riley, after which was a box supper. The crowd was very orderly and wide awake. The supper netted $91.45, with which many necessary things will be purchased for the school. We are proud to see our school pushing forward at so rapid a pace. We are sure that Mrs. Howell with her earnestness and ability and with such co-operation of parents and community as she has will accomplish work this year that never has been done by any other school in the county.

ELEPHANTINE DISPLAY.

An unprecedented attraction with the Sun Brothers' Great Tented Shows, this season, is the introduction at every performance of Herr Klotz's herd of tango and pantomime elephants. These jungle giants give imitations of a brass band, dance the latest tango and turkey trots, stand on their heads, play base ball and bowl ten pins; they walk ropes and perform many other equally amusing and difficult tricks. They are truthfully advertised as the most wonderful elephants today in America.

Besides this elephantine display the other attractions are all of a high grade character and serve to introduce the leading foreign and American artists. "Tango Bill," the $10,000 high school horse, also appears at every performance. This beautiful equine is handled and performed by Mike Kelland, the well known New York horse woman.

The Sun Show will exhibit at Hickman, on Monday, Oct. 9th presenting two complete and unbridged performances. Afternoon and night. The usual free attractions will be offered on the show grounds at 12:30 p. m., and this season these are again all new and of a highly original kind.

Chronic Catarrh is Curable

Nothing is more distressing to the sufferer and his friends. Chronic catarrh is systemic—that is, it is present throughout the body, though it may manifest itself in a local alteration.

Only a constitutional treatment will overcome systemic catarrh. Local treatments sometimes help the acute manifestations, but they cannot overcome the systemic disorder.

A Distinctive Reason

What is the chief reason for the superiority of Royal Baking Powder?

There are several good reasons, but there is one which distinguishes Royal from other baking powders.

This reason, which every woman should know, is that Royal Baking Powder is made from cream of tartar, which comes from grapes. This means a healthful fruit origin. It means natural food as distinguished from mineral substitutes used in other baking powders.

There is no alum nor phosphate in Royal Baking Powder

HAVE YOUR COTTON GINNED SAYS U. S. EXPERT.

Hon. C. F. Creswell, representing the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture was in Hickman Friday talking with local buyers and farmers about the marketing of cotton. This is one of the few sections where cotton is still sold in the seed. Mr. Creswell says that the practice of selling cotton in the seed is responsible for serious losses to producers in many sections has been demonstrated by investigations by marketing specialists of the department. It is impossible, it is said, to determine accurately before ginning the quality of cotton and the per centage of lint, seed, and trash which it contains. In consequence, buyers of cotton seed base their prices on the average character of the cotton of the community, and the farmer who produces better cotton than the average often obtains no reward. As a matter of fact, even the producers of average cotton suffer, for the buyer allows himself a wide margin of safety in making his quotations and purchases.

These facts are brought out in a number of tables just published in Department Bulletin No. 375, Disadvantages of Selling Cotton in the Seed. This practice, while not as common as it once was, is still prevalent in certain sections, particularly in those regions in which cotton is a comparatively new crop or in which the production is comparatively scanty. For example, it is estimated that 90 per cent of Missouri's small crop was sold in the seed in 1915 and only two per cent of South Carolina's. The actual number of bales sold in this way however, was greatest in Oklahoma, and for this reason the investigation, the results of which are to be found in the bulletin already mentioned, was conducted in that State.

In the course of that investigation a large number of samples of seed cotton were collected from loads sold by different farmers and the price of each load ascertained. These samples were ginned and the relative proportion of lint, seed, and trash determined. It was then possible to compare the returns which the farmers received for their cotton with what they would have obtained had they sold their lint and seed separately at the prevailing prices.

The samples showed a wide variation in the outturn of lint, seed, and trash. The variation, however, was rarely taken into account by the buyers who, in the same market, on the same day often offered the same price for all unginned cotton, irrespective of its quality. Such discrimination as was exercised was against the producer—that is, a lower price might be offered for cotton that was obviously below the average, but good cotton brought no more than the market rate.

The rate was in the majority of cases much below what the seed and lint would have brought had they been sold separately. Comparisons published in detail in the new bulletin show that this loss ranged from an average of $1.75 per bale for low middling to an average of $7.60 per bale for good middling. The total loss on 586 bales of the white grades sampled by the investigators was $2,715.20, or an average of $4.63. In these calculations, it should be said, proper allowance was made for the cost of ginning. In some instances, it is true, the farmer gained by selling his cotton in the seed, but these were far too few to alter the general result.

There is, moreover, another disadvantage inherent in the practice. Not only does the farmer usually lose in the marketing of any one crop, but he is seriously hindered in improving his cotton from year to year because there is no incentive to do so. As the buyer of seed cotton plays little or no attention to grade and staple the producer is forced to think chiefly of the yield per acre. Moreover, it is difficult, if not impossible for the grower to obtain his own seed from the ginner for planting, and he is, therefore, unable to maintain a pure variety. In the majority of markets about the only advantage of selling seed cotton, the investigators found, was the saving in the time of the men and teams that otherwise would have to await their turn at the gin. They recommend, therefore, that for the common good of all concerned the practice of selling cotton in the seed be discouraged and that each bale be custom ginned and sold upon its merits.

RESPECTFULLY SUBMITTED.

The man who stops his paper because he is "a little short" and keeps smoking "fifteen cents" or two for a quarter" cigars lays himself open to suspicion of being "off." The man who doesn't want to take the paper because he is taking too many now, had ought not to feel aggrieved when said paper forgets to make any special mention of his fine horses that sold for a big price or fails to print the complimentary notice a paper in some distant city makes of him, not knowing how poor a friend he is to the printer. The man who sticks a card in his show window offering his stock and the business for sale and makes no mention of his offer in the papers, ought to make it, no matter how low it is. He is too far behind his time to make business go in these years. These facts are like the United States Treasurer's reports, "respectfully submitted."

Place this bug in your ear. If you live in the City of Hickman you must register Tuesday, October 3, before you will be entitled to cast a vote in the November election. If you do not live within the corporate limits, it is not necessary to register, even though you vote in town. With all the emphasis of which this paper is capable it would impress Democrats of the necessity of registering next Tuesday, and that under no circumstances must they neglect the essential of voting in November. Kentucky is for Wilson, but unless those who are for him shall register they will be unable to show it on election day.

MRS. JENNIE HEWITT.

After a long and happy life spent in doing deeds of love, with the spirit of her Master radiating from her face our dear friend, Mrs. Jennie Hewitt, passed from her earthly home into the golden Sabbath day of the Eternal city, on Sunday morning, August 21, 1916. We have no words to express the sorrow we feel at the vacancy caused by the departure of this dear one whom we had learned to love so devotedly. To know her was to love her, and in her love for us she unconsciously drew us nearer her Savior in whose cause she was always so intensely interested. She was one of those rare, sweet Christian characters who make the pathway of life sweeter, smoother and brighter for all her companions, cheering them with her words of hearty greeting, encouraging where a word of wise counsel was needed, and at all times showing her love for every one who needed help.

Surely heaven was a happy place when the angels, bearing her triumphant spirit into the presence of the welcoming hosts of the New Jerusalem, there free from all pain, bade her worship with the redeemed of the ages, in the company of her loved ones, all bought with the precious blood of Jesus. We doubt not that the dawn of this eternal Sabbath day, she heard from the lips of good and faithful servants.

She loved the services of God's house and was always there unless prevented by sickness. In the Sunday School it was always a joy to meet her and see her beaming countenance and hear her sweet voice. Also at the church services and in our society she never failed to give her wise counsel and unflinching love.

We wish to express our tenderest sympathy and love for the dear husband and daughter. Though unspeakably sad at her going, what a glorious heritage left them—that of such a wife and mother! May the God whom she served and loved with such devotion, look upon them in deepest compassion, and bind up their broken hearts as He alone can.—Ladies Aid Society and Sunday School of the Baptist church.

WHAT IS YOUR TIME WORTH TO YOU?

Everyone's time is worth something so when you lose time from your work you lose money. When you take calomel it makes you sick and causes you to lose time from your work and is liable to salivate you. Lemolac is a guaranteed substitute for calomel that is pleasant to take and as it does not gripe, sicken or salivate it is rapidly taking the place of dangerous, unpleasant calomel. You don't have to take a day off when you take Lemolac, so it is worth to you in proportion to what your time is worth, yet a large bottle costs you only 50 cents. You may eat or drink what you desire while taking Lemolac. We are more than anxious to have you try Lemolac at our risk and will pleasantly refund your money if not entirely satisfactory.—Helm & Ellison.
P. S.—If you forget the name spell calomel backwards. Advt.

IN REACH—OR OUT?

Suppose a fire broke out today in the house, office or store adjoining you how would you stand in regard to a fire insurance policy? Have you got one at all? Is it in a sound and reliable company? Now is the best time to think about it and to take out a policy if you haven't one. You can't get it afterwards you know. See us about a policy at once. The cost is small—the benefits great.
